

Partners in Flexo Innovation.

Update 03/20/2020

Anderson & Vreeland Covid 19 Essential Business Update Statement

Anderson & Vreeland and its subsidiaries – Provident Group and Nova Polymers, Inc. have been monitoring the evolving conditions related to Covid-19 daily.

We have published updates related to business continuity on our website related to actions we have taken to ensure the safety of our employees, their families, our customers, and our collective businesses.

We have proactively taken measures to ensure, to the best of our abilities, that there will be no disruption of business continuity.

Anderson & Vreeland is an integral part of our country's "essential" supply chain.

Our companies play a vital role in keeping printers and converters supplied with the materials they need to provide packaging necessary for the health and safety of individuals and their families, some of which include grocery stores, health care facilities, pharmacies, and household goods. Therefore, all Anderson & Vreeland and its subsidiaries' facilities will remain open during these disruptive times.

Determinations regarding a business's designation being essential vs. non-essential are made by local, state, and/or Federal agencies. As mentioned, we are monitoring this continually evolving situation on a daily and hourly basis and will adhere to any guidelines set forth by state or federal guidelines.

Many questions arise daily about how this pandemic will affect our organizations. Recently we have seen jurisdictions across the US announcing closures of non-essential businesses. In each instance of these occurrences, the below list was used to identify business types that are being classified as "essential."

Food processing, Agriculture, Industrial manufacturing, Feed mills, Construction, Trash collection, Grocery and household goods (including convenience stores), Home repair/hardware, Auto repair, Pharmacy and other medical facilities, Biomedical and healthcare, Post offices and shipping outlets, Insurance, Banks, Gas stations, Laundromats, Veterinary clinics and pet stores, Warehousing, Storage, Distribution, Public transportation, Hotel and commercial lodging.

Continue on next page

Update 03/20/2020

Anderson & Vreeland Covid 19 Essential Business Update Statement
(continued)

While we do not know what the future holds related to the spread of Covid-19, we do know we are in this together, and it will be together that we work through these challenging times to keep the cogs of our economy turning.

As conditions continue to develop, we will keep our customers – many who we call friends, updated with the most recent information. Follow us on Twitter, LinkedIn and Facebook for the most recent updates.

Darin Lyon
President
Anderson & Vreeland Inc.