Workplace Statement Regarding COVID-19

Since the beginning of March, Anderson & Vreeland, Inc. has been observing and implementing the evolving recommendations from the CDC and WHO in regard to doing our part in limiting the spread of COVID-19.

Our Organization has mandated that our employees take the precautions recommended by the CDC and WHO while in the workplace and strongly suggested they implement these practices in their personal lives as well.

Many of our employees are working from home to limit the opportunity for contact. When employees must be in our facility to service our clients, temperature checks are performed before building entry and masks are required anytime a safe six-foot social distance cannot be maintained.

When deliveries are made to our distribution facilities, drivers are only allowed in our buildings when absolutely necessary. They are required to wear a mask for entry and must quarantine in a defined location near our receiving doors.

Our Facilities and Safety Manager continues to monitor the recommendations from the CDC, in addition to local and state governments, on a daily basis to ensure the safety of our employees and valued customers.
